GENETIC COUNSELOR

"Practice of genetic counseling" means the communication process, which deals with the human problems associated with the occurrence, or the risk of occurrence, of a genetic disorder in a family, including the provision of services to help an individual or family. A genetic counselor comprehends the medical facts, including the diagnosis, probable cause of the disorder, and the available management. Appreciates the way heredity contributes to the disorder and the risk of occurrence in specified relatives; understands the alternatives for dealing with the risk of occurrence, chooses the course of action which seems appropriate to patients in view of their risk, their family goals, and their ethical and religious standards, and acts in accordance with that decision. Makes the best possible psychosocial adjustment to the disorder in an affected family member or to the risk of occurrence of that disorder.

HEALTHCARE ASSISTANT

* Note, the 2005 General Session of the Utah Legislature, the Legislature passed House Bill 12, Healthcare Assistants, sponsored by Rep. Rebecca Lockhart. This bill amends the Nurse Practice Act (Title 58-31b) by deregulating healthcare assistants.

In a memo sent out prior to the legislative session, it was explained that the Health and Human Services Interim Committee of the Utah Legislature had recommended the discontinuation of healthcare assistant registration. This recommendation was based, in part, on the fact that the Department of Health requires an extensive review of any employee who will be providing hands-on care to a client in any regulated facility. It was determined that the health care assistant registration required by DOPL is a duplication of the services provided by the Department of Health. Subsequently, in the interest of efficiency in government and regulation, deregulation of the health care assistant registration was pursued and achieved.

Therefore, as of May 2, 2005, the Division of Occupational and Professional Licensing will no longer register or renew the registration of health care assistants.

Unless prohibited by an employing facility, an individual currently registered as a healthcare assistant may continue to practice after May 2, 2005; however, that practice would be unlicensed and unregulated by the Division.
